Study Together, Gain Together

On February 27, 90 WAASST students began a new semester—28 of them for the first time. “Already in two weeks we have gained much,” affirms a new student. He and his classmates cite the value of the lively interaction in class, the rich cross-cultural exchange, new ideas for practical ministry, and the demands of research and exams. Students have come from 11 countries, and 17 professors from 5 nations will teach during these 9 weeks. Pray with us for a blessed, profitable semester. (Photos: <http://bit.ly/2lPE11n>. Use this link to access photos added to this album throughout the semester.)

A New Cafeteria - Bon Appetit!

The new dining hall and kitchen have been completed and are in use. The veranda has been enclosed and renovated to create a larger eating area, and the kitchen moved and refitted with new sinks and stove. (Photos are included in the album noted above.)

WAASST/AGGST alumni and professors at the Africa Assemblies of God Alliance conference, Johannesburg, February 2017. They serve either on their National Church Executive Committees or as missionaries in various West and Central African nations. Ten WAASST graduates currently serve as general superintendents.

Extension Center News

BURKINA FASO: This center just ended its session of 4 courses. Many students work, so classes meet in the evenings and on Saturdays. The center needs a dedicated classroom and furnishings; please pray for this need.

KINSHASA: Praise God that, despite tension in the country, this center begins its session as planned on February 6. Continue to pray for political stability and for the Church here.

SENEGAL: Seven students are currently studying at this center. Some who had to abandon studies for a time have been able to resume them. Pray they will finish well.
