Masters Students in Session

Sixty-two students from 15 countries are participating in the 2017 Master's session on the Lomé campus. Over the 10 weeks, 16 professors from 6 nations are teaching the block courses for the French and English sections. Some 25 students are in the thesis-writing phase (fourth year). May the Lord give them strength as they study, and may the knowledge gained enhance their ministries. (Photos: <http://bit.ly/2rJo7W>. Use this link to see photos added during the session.)

The Executive Committee of the WAASST Board of Governors held its annual meeting May 16-17, to review policies and discuss current issues. Around the table, clockwise from right: Dr. Daplex Ouentchist, chairman; Rev. Douti Flindja, academic dean; Rev. Marcel Bomboko, member; Rev. Mitré Djakouti, advisor; Rev. Emile Adote, vice chairman; Dr. Mary Ballenger, WAASST president.

Extension Center News: Coordinators Meeting

Seated: Dr. Mary Ballenger; Chantal Lawson, registrar; Rev. Douti Flindja; Rev. Marcel Bomboko, DRC. Standing: Rev. Bernie Smith, WAASST professor; Rev. Alfred Ensa, Sierra Leone; Dr. Chris Dzoagbe, Ghana; Rev. Yves Mamfoumbi, Gabon; Dr. Gideon Panka, Ghana; Dr. Jim Thacker, Madagascar; Rev. Josué Dipama, Burkina Faso; Dr. Felix Niba, Cameroon; Rev. Gary Dickinson, Gabon. (Not pictured: Dr. Daplex Ouentchist, Côte d'Ivoire; Rev. Waly Sarr, Senegal)

On May 18-19, coordinators from all nine active extension centers met with WAASST faculty on the central campus. They reported on their respective programs, challenges, and successes. Some 70 students plan to come from the centers this August to complete the undergraduate program. Please pray for (1) finances, especially for students' travel to Lomé; (2) library and other infrastructure needs at various centers; and (3) the unity of the Spirit as these centers work in diverse areas with unique challenges.
